Our COVID relief work spans across 120 villages and a population of 1,50,000 with ration kits being distributed twice a month and now we have started active assessment of on ground situation by doing telephonic surveys with our students from 5th class onwards.

WARRIOR OF PPES: Mr Shajan Jose.

The nationwide lockdown has disrupted all forms of normal living. It has plunged the entire world into a predicament that nobody was prepared for. Along with the rest of the world, the rural communities of India have been greatly affected, none more so than those of Uttar Pradesh of which Anupshahar is one.

Fighting the COVID 19 are the heroes of PARDADA PARDADI EDUCATIONAL SOCIETY.

Mr. Jose is one of them, who has been an integral part of this organization from almost the start. He recently just celebrated 20 years working with PPES, congratulations Mr. Shajan Jose. He is the one who is leading the charge against coronavirus in Anupshahar by undertaking a variety of key engagements. On the outset, he has been managing the school campus at Anupshahar which has been turned into quarantine zone with about 250 patients there already. Mr. Jose ensures that all proper protocols of safety and hygiene get followed apart from arranging all the required facilities for the quarantine centre. All this while he manages his regular office work as well.

One of the most important undertakings that Mr. Jose is managing is the preparation and distribution of ration kits as food shortages have become rampant in the area and its surrounding communities with a threat of famine and malnutrition looming over. He and his team are also putting an extra effort into awareness campaigns for these communities to educate them on COVID 19 and its various preventive measures that can be undertaken on a personal level.

With a lockdown situation, Mr. Jose has to go through many challenges every day. One of the major challenges is the distribution of the ration kits. Many times, all the members of the family will come and ask for ration kits, it's difficult to distinguish whether the members are of the same family, Handling crowd having more of women and children is a tough job as sometimes the ration gets exhausted and they refuse to go back. Despite confronting such conditions, the efforts of Mr. Jose are aligned to help the greatest number of people he can. Despite sometimes getting worried about his health, he continues to soldier on because Mr. Jose truly believes that at PPES, we are very positive that together we will push through this and see a new dawn, and for that he promises to make sure that no stone is left unturned.
